〔講義の目的〕 This course continues from the 3 rd year studies concerning basic English academic paragraph and essays. Students will be introduced to a wide variety of English for Specific Purposes (ESP) vocabulary and topics. Students will also continue to build their vocabulary knowledge, strengthening their grasp of the basic 2,000 words by adding words from the academic word list.
〔講義の概要〕 Graded readers will be selected by students according to individual interest and level. Every two weeks students must finish one book, write a book report, and read the report in class. Every two weeks, students will do activities from the textbook. Frequent quizzes will check students' understanding of English phrases from the textbook.
〔履修上の留意点〕 Make an effort to read a little each day, not cram for an exam and then forget after the exam is over. Share your knowledge with classmates and work together to improve your reading and communication skills.
〔到達目標〕 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Read at least 12 books and 600 pages in English by the end of the year. • Learn two hundred academic words and phrases in English by the end of the year. • Increase overall knowledge of English needs for technical fields.
〔評価方法〕 Class Participation (10%) / Graded readers (30%) / Book reports (30%) / Short quizzes (30%)
〔教科書〕 J. Noguchi & M. Terui, Essential Genres in SciTech English (金星堂)
〔補助教材・参考書〕 At least 12 graded readers. One B5 or A4 notebook with at least 40 pages.
〔関連科目〕 Lateness will not be tolerated. 15 minutes late is an absence. 3 times late = 1 absence. Students who do not bring materials (notebook, text book, etc.) will lose class participation points.
